DESCRIPTION OF PROPERTY:

318 Paseo del Pueblo Norte is a single story Contemporary Style government building with both red brick and white stucco facades. Its overall design is derived from traditional New Mexico architectural styles and features. The main parapet is capped and there are metal beams which extend beyond the building wall which are meant to read as vigas. Wrapping around two sides of the building is a feature designed to depict a portal with brick "columns" and projecting metal beams. The areas between the "columns" are finished with white stucco and large lite fixed metal windows set in pairs. Entry to the building is on the east through double leaf large lite metal doors which are protected by a projecting overhang. At the southwest corner of the "portal" there is a roofed "arcade" which projects over a secondary entrance. At the rear is an additional brick and stucco mass which presumably houses a loading area. The building sits on a corner lot with asphalt parking on its east and south sides.
