DESCRIPTION OF PROPERTY:

514 Paseo del Pueblo Norte is a single story Spanish Pueblo Revival style stuccoed residential building. It has a flat parapet with changes in its massing and height in various areas. A stepped bell tower dominates the north elevation of the south wing. Windows are 8-lite wooden casement units and fixed plate glass units. All have exposed wooden lintels. The south wing of the building is designed as a portal with an enclosed south elevation. It has turned wooden posts, corbels, canales, and a bell in the bell tower. A central projecting mass with exposed viga ends dominates the east elevation of the structure. The entrance to the building is concealed behind the high stucco yard wall across the east property line. There are multiple interior chimneys. An attached garage with a wooden paneled vehicular door stands on the north side of the building.
